Dear Hiring Team at Solari

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Software Developer position at Solari. With a proven track record of developing and maintaining web applications, collaborating effectively with cross-functional teams, and delivering impactful software solutions, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills to an organization dedicated to inspiring hope and making a positive impact on individuals and families.

In my current role as a Software Developer at General Motors, I have consistently met service level objectives by developing custom applications using technologies such as Java, Jest, JUnit, PostgreSQL, and Angular. I take pride in my ability to write clean and efficient code, as well as my strong focus on testing and quality assurance, which has led to an 18% improvement in efficiency and a significant reduction in the instances of bugs.

One of my key strengths is my proficiency in collaborating within agile scrum teams to design and implement impactful software features. I have experience prioritizing and scoping feature requests, contributing to potential revenue gains, and orchestrating successful migrations of critical applications to Kubernetes and Docker.

I am excited about the prospect of working at Solari, an organization that is making a real difference in the lives of individuals and families through its crisis contact center services. Your commitment to providing compassionate support aligns with my values of empathy and dedication to delivering high-quality solutions.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to discussing how my background aligns with your team's needs. Please feel free to contact me at acena.dane@gmail.com or (480) 567-6105.

Sincerely,
Dane Acena
